SERVICE CONTRACT

Tasha Chemplavil, M.S., CCC-SLP is a Speech-Language Pathologist, registered in good standing with the American Speech and Hearing Association (ASHA).

FEES

Rates of service are $30 per quarter-hour and billable services include, but are not limited to: assessment, treatment, caregiver training, team meetings, phone/email consultations, preparation & analysis, report writing, and travel time (at an additional cost of $0.55 per mile). Payment may be received by either cash or check made out to Tasha Chemplavil, upon delivery of service.

Many extended health insurance plans include services for Speech-Language Pathology. You are encouraged to research your plan's specifications before receiving services from this clinician.

APPOINTMENTS

Appointments will be 30-60 minutes in length, including 5 minutes reserved for session note taking, preparation of home practice materials, and receipt of service fees.

Parents and/or caregivers are required to be present for all therapy sessions and be active participants in the therapy process. They will be encouraged to integrate home practice into their daily routines and maintain open lines of communication with the service provider to support the client's communication development and goals.

CANCELLATIONS

24 hours notice is requested for all cancellations. A session fee of $60 may be charged for appointments cancelled within the 24 hours prior to the start of the appointment. Rescheduling of missed appointments will always be an option. If more than 3 appointments are missed in a row, a discussion regarding the termination of services will be initiated by the clinician.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASE POLICY

It shall be the policy of Tasha Chemplavil, LLC to abide by the following:

All patients, or parents or guardians of patients, shall telephone to cancel and reschedule appointments when the patient may have one or more symptoms of a contagious disease. This will aid in the protection of the health of the staff, other patients, and family members.

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information.

Protection of Health Information: Your health information is kept private according to the federal privacy regulations under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1966 (HIPAA) and you are provided with notices of the legal duties and privacy practices within this practice. Your protected health information is information that relates to your past, present, or future health care. This includes your medication history, diagnostic evaluations, and therapeutic services.

Uses and Disclosures of your protected Health Information: Disclosure of your health information may occur for health care operations. Examples of operations in which protected health information disclosures may occur include insurance and billing, management, financial or quality assurance audits, law enforcement purposes, education, referring to other services, and receiving information from other professionals that may have treated you in the past. Your protected health information may be used for treatment purposes including provisions, coordination or management of services. Some other examples of disclosures include the following:

- Messages may be left on your answering machine regarding your appointment or to request that you contact this office
- Medical records may need to be transferred to another location
- Disclosures may also be made to student observers or therapists who participate in health care operations and commit to respect the privacy of your health information

Your Rights Regarding Your Health Information: You have the right to review your health information, which might include intake information, evaluation, sessions notes, goals, and progress notes. For all other purposes beyond those listed above, your written authorization will be required to use, disclose, or restrict your protected health information. Your authorization can be revoked at any time except to the extent that we have relied on the authorization. Revocations must be in writing. You may also initiate the process for your information to be sent to someone else through the use of an authorization form or written request. To request further restriction or disclosure, you must submit a written request that explains what information you want restricted, how you want the information restricted, and from whom you want the restriction to apply.

Notice of Privacy Practices: By law, this practice abides by the terms of this Notice of Privacy practices until we choose to change it. We reserve the right to change this notice at any time. The revised notice will be available on request from our office.

Complaints: If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you may submit a complaint to the practice or to the U.S. Department of health and Human Services. To file a complaint with the practice, submit the complaint in writing. You will not be penalized or retaliated against for filing a complaint and your identity will be kept confidential.

CLIENT EMAIL/TEXTING INFORMED CONSENT FORM

1. Risk of using email/texting

The transmission of client information by email and/or texting has a number of risks that clients should consider prior to the use of email and/or texting. These include, but are not limited to, the following risks:

- a. Email/texts can be circulated, forwarded, stored electronically on paper, and broadcast to unintended recipients.
- b. Email/text senders can easily misaddress an email or text and send the information to an undesired recipient.
- c. Backup copies of emails/texts may exist even after the sender and/or the recipient has deleted his or her copy.
- e. Emails/texts can be intercepted, altered, forwarded or used without authorization or detection.
- f. Email/texts can be used as evidence in court.
- g. Emails/texts may not be secure and therefore it is possible that the confidentiality of such communications may be breached by a third party.

2. Conditions for the use of email and texts

Therapist cannot guarantee but will use reasonable means to maintain security and confidentiality of email and text information sent and received. Therapist is not liable for improper disclosure of confidential information that is not caused by Therapist's intentional misconduct. Clients/Parent's/Legal Guardians must acknowledge and consent to the following conditions:

- a. Email/texting is not appropriate for urgent or emergency situations. Provider cannot guarantee that any particular email and/or text will be read and responded to within any particular period of time.
- b. Email/texts should be concise. The client/parent/legal guardian should call and/or schedule an appointment to discuss complex and/or sensitive situations.
- c. All email will usually be printed and filed into the client's medical record. Texts may be printed and filed as well.
- d. Provider will not forward client's/parent's/legal guardian's identifiable emails and/or texts without the client's/parent's/legal guardian's written consent, except as authorized by law.
- e. Clients/parents/legal guardians should not use email or texts for communication of sensitive medical information.
- f. Provider is not liable for breaches of confidentiality caused by the client or any third party.
- g. It is the client's/parent's/legal guardian's responsibility to follow up and/or schedule an appointment if warranted.

3. Client Acknowledgement and Agreement

I acknowledge that I have read and fully understand this consent form. I understand the risks associated with the communication of email and/or texts between my therapist and me, and consent to the conditions and instructions outlined, as well as any other instructions that my Therapist may impose to communicate with me by email or text.
